AUDIOSCRIPT (Tracks 05-07)

Will: Did you hear about that hero in Wales? Dai Efans, I think his name is.

Sheryl: No.

Will: Well, I was watching the television the other day when this man came on.

Sheryl: Why is he a hero?

Will: Because he saved a woman in the sea the other day. She was fishing, I think, and she fell off a rock.

Sheryl: And what happened?

Will: Yeah - well, Dai was walking slowly along the beach and he heard a lot of noise. He looked up at the rocks and he saw a small group of people shouting. The woman in the sea couldn't swim and her friends didn't know what to do.

Sheryl: So what did Dai do?

Will: Well, he took his jacket off and dived into the water. The weather was bad and the waves were very high, but he saved her! Her friends called an ambulance and the woman went to hospital.

Sheryl: That was brave!

Will: But the most incredible thing is that Dai is eighty-five years old!
